

Family Engagement Leadership Institute

Our community of practice is for equity-minded school principals and district leaders to engage with a network of peers in leading a family engagement strategy that directly impacts student learning and well-being.

Our yearlong cohort begins in September 2022.

Key Components

Virtual Trainings

Four half-day group sessions at key points throughout the year

Problem of Practice

Apply and deepen the learning by building on existing initiatives

Ongoing Coaching

Differentiated 1-on-1 and small group support provided by expert leaders and cohort peers

Cohort Experience

Small & whole-group sessions provide support and accountability throughout the year

Knowledge-capture

Learning is codified through high-quality videos in order to document improvement

Participants can expect to:

- ★ Understand the evidence – Learn what research tells us about how effective family engagement improves student outcomes and school culture, as well as the paths taken by exemplary schools and systems
- ★ Clarify their challenge – Effective strategies start with an accurate diagnosis of the problem so our work together begins with a root-cause analysis
- ★ Lead the learning – Collaborate with a team of families and staff on a problem of practice that ties family engagement to student learning and well-being
- ★ Embrace equity – Using the problem of practice, build a strategy that also addresses bias and existing power imbalances between home and school
- ★ Build systems – Apply lessons from the year toward creating new and stronger systems that help staff improve their collaborations with families
- ★ Define their role – Understand the core competencies of an effective leader for family engagement
